

How to identify a Pond mud snail

Total shell height is between 14 –25mm

Opening is on the right hand side and is 1/3 the height of the shell

Snails are 4—7mm wide when fully grown

As part of our Marvellous Mud Snails project, Buglife are looking for any sightings of the rare Pond mud snail, anywhere in Cornwall.

Pond mud snails are under threat in the UK. They are about 15mm long and live in small pools, temporary ponds and marshes. If you think you may have seen one in your garden or on your land then please let us know.

Please send photos of any potential sightings to laura.larkin@buglife.org.uk